Design for pocket park P159

Dear resident, employee and/or entrepreneur,

In March, we asked you to share your thoughts on the design and furnishing of the roof of the parking garage belonging to office building P159, as well as the adjacent alley (see map below). More than 650 people responded to this appeal via the online platform Swipocratie, and indicated which functions they would like to see included. Now it's time for the next step, documenting the preferred functions in more detail.

Greenery, sports and games

Most people would like to see a green space here (82%). Sports (72%) and games (69%) also scored high. The dilemma's we presented you with resulted in the same outcome: the participants expressed the strongest preference for a green function, a sports-related theme came second and a play area third. These will now become the main ingredients in the design of this space.

Within these three themes, a lot of choices still have to be made. For example, what kind of greenery would you like to see? A flower garden, an urban park or an evergreen hedge? And what type of sports or games
